

DEMOCRATIC SPLIT IN COLORADO TO HURT COX CHANCES

Nonpartisans Gain When the Leaders Disagree on Important Issue of Presidential Campaign.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Special Correspondent of The News Scimitar.)

DENVER, Col., Sept. 30.—Disunion in the Democratic party and the intrusion of the Nonpartisan league in state affairs by capturing the Democratic primaries, has just about ruined the chances of Gov. Cox in Colorado. Although the Democratic nominees for governor have endorsed Cox, the rank and file of the Nonpartisan league voters are free to vote the farmer-labor ticket and many of them will. This will cost Cox more votes than the Republicans.

Similarly, the regular Democrats have been so antagonized by the Nonpartisan league forces that many of them were not at all pleased when Gov. Cox received the league's nomination for governor in his private car and hobbled with him while in Colorado.

So much more attention, however, has been given to the bitter fight on state affairs that the effort to drive out the Nonpartisan league overshadowed all else. Thus the Denver Post, hitherto a Democratic paper, and one of the big influences in the 1916 campaign for Wilson, being largely responsible for his success not only in Colorado, but also in Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho and surrounding states, is lukewarm on the presidential business. It has developed a more or less neutral attitude on the Cox-Harding controversy and is devoting all its efforts to a fight on the Democratic-Nonpartisan league ticket.

Attitude of Paper.

Similarly the Denver Times, although a strong advocate of the league of nations, is supporting Harding on the theory, evidently, that he will abandon Johnson after the election. Anyway, there is not a newspaper of large influence in Colorado that is helping Cox. The Ohio governor is up against a difficult proposition, the Democratic organization is disrupted and disorganized. The audience that greeted the governor on his arrival in Denver was enthusiastic and cordial. Some of those who heard him said the governor showed the effects of his fatiguing journey.

I find considerable sympathy for Gov. Cox for his gallant fight against the odds. The feeling here seems to be that Cox is struggling alone and is unaided. For instance, today the Denver Post has a cartoon displayed prominently in its first page with Gov. Cox standing in an imploring attitude before a row of whynas, including Bryan, McAdoo, Clark and other Democratic leaders, and asking them: "Aren't you ever going to say anything?"

Different From 1916.

How different things are from the 1916 campaign. When the writer reached Colorado in 1916, around the circle four years ago the friendliness to Wilson was unmistakable. Every straw vote in the vicinity favored Harding. In 1916, however, told me privately they couldn't carry Colorado and would lose the state by 10,000 majority. President Wilson carried it by 70,000. Furthermore, the Democratic leaders, who ought to know, predict a Harding victory by at least 20,000.

The league of nations is not a controlling factor in the election. There is only one factor—the impatience for a change of administration. Furthermore, the Democratic label has gotten a black eye by its association with the Nonpartisan league. In the desire to vote against the Democratic state ticket, many old-line Democrats will vote for Harding and the whole Republican ticket. Some of the former votes that are ordinarily Republican, would go to Cox if it were not for the farmer-labor ticket to attract the radicals.

The outlook for Cox is gloomy. Many of my friends here, who are going to vote for Cox, don't think he has a chance to carry Colorado, and they know the state like a book. (Copyright, 1920, by David Lawrence.)

CITY DUMP MAY STOP CAVING OF RIVER BANK

The creation of a new dumping ground at the foot of Butler avenue in an effort to check the caving of the river bank near the Frisco railroad, has been agreed to following a conference between Thomas H. Allen, commissioner of streets, bridges and sewers, and officials of the Frisco railroad.

Investigation developed that reclamation work would be an expensive item that a decision was reached to try a simple and inexpensive method, by dumping waste material, timber, etc., by the city at this point in the hope that this refuse would form the nucleus for a natural reclamation.

In order that city trucks may have access to the exact point desired it will be necessary to remove one of the Frisco tracks and an order to this effect is expected at an early date, and as soon as the work is completed the dumping will begin.

STARS PREPARE FOR TRIP HERE

Bert Lytell Among Celebrities Expected at Loew's State Opening.

With the workmen diligently applying the finishing touches to Loew's State for its opening Thursday, Oct. 7, there has been noticed unusual activity among the screen stars in New York city, many of whom have received personal invitations from Marcus Loew to accompany him to this city to take part in the opening festivities.

Within recent days E. A. Schiller, general representative Loew's Southern and Southwestern circuits, has been in direct communication with Mr. Loew and several stars, endeavoring to ascertain definitely just who could be expected. Most important among those invited and who has already signified his intention of attending, is Bert Lytell, idol of the movie fans, whose latest production, "The Price of Redemption," has been selected as the opening film feature to be given in addition to the vaudeville. Lytell not only assured Mr. Loew that he intended making the trip, but during a long distance phone conversation with Mr. Schiller, expressed himself as extremely anxious to appear in person before the Memphis theater-going public.

Ann Luther and Marguerite Marsh, both enjoying enviable reputations in the realm of silent art, advised attaches of the New York Loew organization that they hoped to be present.

The difficulty experienced by all film stars and especially at this season of the year when there is a 100 per cent increase in the production of pictures, is obtaining permission to leave their studios.

With Lytell appearing in person and his picture as a background, local movie fans are due for an unusual treat in film circles. "The Price of Redemption" is conceded to be one of the strongest dramas of the screen this season. In the cast beside Lytell, are Scena Owen and Cleo Madison, stars in their own right; Landers Stevens, Edward Cecil, Arthur Morrison, Wilbur Higby, Rose Marie de Courville and Mickey Moore. The picture is adapted from L. A. R. Wylie's novel, "The Temple of Dawn," and deals with the "come back" morally of a man, who, through

Mrs. Carey Tells How Cuticura Healed Boy's Pimples

"Our little boy had a bad breaking out of pimples on his hands. The pimples got red and spread up to his elbows and burned and itched so badly that the back of his hands and wrists were in a solid eruption. We had to keep his hands tied up all the time to keep him from tearing the skin."

"We had him treated but it did no good. A friend told us to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when we had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. S. F. Carey, Rogersville, Tenn.

CITY OF MEMPHIS HAS MILLION AND A HALF IN BANK

A review of the financial condition of the city as the month of September draws to a close, reveals the fact that the city has a bank balance of more than $1,500,000, after paying off short-term notes amounting to $1,100,000, and the allocation of large sums to various city departments, which under the law are given a mandatory amount.

The delay in announcing the assessment of public utilities is withholding from the city approximately $800,000 in taxes, and Mayor Paine has made numerous efforts to learn the amount of the utility assessments without success.

Sums turned over to departments by the city include $732,468.45 to the board of education, $234,745.93 to the park commission, and $62,593.92 to the Cozzitt library. The schools will receive further funds as soon as the county tax rate is fixed, and a provision made as to grade and high schools, as the city gets a portion of the grade school fund.

The mayor is planning to point out that they inherited an overdraft of $200,000, and this with the issuance of short-term notes, which became due on Sept. 1, have been taken care of. Ample provision has been made in the budget for all departments and funds have been set aside for bonded indebtedness. On the whole the mayor is pleased with the financial standing of the city, and expresses the opinion that when the public utility assessment is announced and collected, this amount coupled with the revenue received from fines and forfeitures and licenses and privileges, will place the city of Memphis in excellent shape.

Legal processes for the collection of all classes of delinquent taxes have now been provided and there is every indication that the revenue accruing to the city from fines and forfeitures as well as from licenses and privileges will exceed all previous records.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single egg and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
